

I am an owner of Kerf Waterjet in Dayton, Ohio. We are presently looking for employees. We have a small shop where 2 CNC waterjets are running. We are looking for operators that can learn to edit programs, run machines, inspect parts, clean the work area, load and unload trucks,,,basically, do it all in a small shop environment. We would of course put in effort to train in all areas that needed it. Do you have a program to point resumes to us of people in your training program that may fit our requirements, and want to work?
It could be 1st, 2nd, or 3rd shift. We start unqualified people at $10 hr while training them, and of course it is up to the person on how fast they can learn and how much they can get their wages up by improvement.
